WASHINGTON, February 12.—The manswell affair. It was intended that it should have all the aristocratic "tone" to it that Washington society and the at-tendance of the "first families" could supthe colored man and brother. The price of tickets was fixed at five dollars with the the plebeian crowd. It was a vain delu-sion, for now the horrifying discovery has been made that of the tickets thus far sold nearly two thirds have been oppressed colored man, is horrified at the idea of his taking possession of an inauguration ball in this manner. It is one thing to kick up a row because the cadets at West Point declined to associate with an idle, worthless negro boy and to pass laws compelling people to take the colored man to their bosoms, but now when the colored man exercises his ingo to the inaugural ball there is a terri-ble wail. But the mischief has been done and it is hard to see how the difficulty is going to be got around. As a matter of fact since the negro has been so persistently put forward as the social equal of the white man it is difficult to see why he has not as good a right to go to the inauguration ball, if he has the wherewithal to pay for his ticket. At all events he is likely to be there, and the sight which the ball will afford will be one of particular interest.

Going for Bob Ingersoll.

Bob Ingersoll evidently struck the wrong town when he lectured in Wil-mington, Delaware. The castigation he recommended his indictment for blas-phemy, was not suffered to go without a nent. The final report of the grand jury of Newcastle county, after strongly endorsing the Chief justice's declarations, warmed up with a subject as followed:

"The audacity with which the notorious lasphemer known as Robert G. Ingersoll recently announced his purpose to lecture in this city on infidelity, has no parallel in the habits of respectable vagabondism. Practically he therein propposes to destroy the sanctity and comforting influences of the Sabbath, to undermine the as-surances of faith and hope, the very pillars upon which religion rests, to spread broadcast among us people, happy in the promises of the Bible, blank fear ful doubt, to extinguish every ray of light that may shine upon the trusting Christian's path of life and in death even to the soul's enternal rest. For the assurances of prompt and exemplary punishment which the honorable, the court has expressed in all such cases hereafter, not only the grand jury, but all earnest Christians will give earnest thanks, and to the end that this despised reviler of religion may not again deal out his impious rhetoric in our city with impunity, and grand jury recommend that the city authorities be requested to prevent his public appearance here in future in the character of arch-blasishness and destroys Worms, Castoria is phemer and reviler of God and religion. not narcotic. It gives health to the child and rest to the mother, my20-1v blasphemy is a crime and as such will be punished by fine and imprisonment."
